Art creating is back! Join our professional artist to learn about expressive underpainting washes. This a a fun and loose application of pigment that will be the foundation for a painting. Watercolor, pastel, oil, or acrylic can all be used. If you have never tried this technique, there will be some materials provided for you to explore as well as a demonstration of how to get started. You may also just join the group and work in your own method.

Upon registration, a recommended list of materials is available for you to bring to this free program. No materials are provided, only art instruction. A tour of the house and background of Madame Modjeska's artist life is highlighted.

This program welcomes all who are interested and love the arts, from beginning to advanced artists. Come experience an OC Park in a new way.

Event is free.
